Detailed Event Report

MED-START MD/MS PG Orientation - Netaji Subhas Medical College & Hospital

Programme Overview

The programme served as an important academic beginning for the postgraduate students. It provided an opportunity for the new batch to understand the academic environment of the institution, the expectations of postgraduate medical training and the professional responsibilities associated with higher medical education.

The session included formal inauguration, interaction with dignitaries, academic orientation and motivational guidance for students. Senior members of the institution encouraged the students to maintain discipline, pursue academic excellence and make meaningful use of the learning resources available at the college.

Key Highlights

- Formal welcome and orientation of the postgraduate students of MD/MS courses.
- Ceremonial lamp lighting by dignitaries and faculty members to inaugurate the programme.
- Guidance on academic discipline, professional conduct and institutional values.
- Encouragement to use library resources, research facilities and faculty mentorship effectively.
- Active participation from faculty members, doctors and postgraduate students.

Outcome and Impact

The orientation programme helped the postgraduate students understand the importance of structured academic learning, clinical responsibility and research-oriented growth. It also reinforced the institution's commitment to quality medical education, innovation and holistic academic development.

Conclusion

The MED-START MD/MS PG Orientation Programme was conducted successfully at Netaji Subhas Medical College & Hospital. The event created a positive and motivating start for the postgraduate students and reaffirmed the institution's focus on education, excellence, ethics, compassion and commitment.
