Netaji Subhas Institute of Technology (NSIT) was started in the year 2008 by M. M. Singh, a great educationalist and philanthropist is running successfully under his able guidance. His son, Mr. K. M. Singh is looking after the institute as in the capacity of registrar.

The main feature of the institute comprises excellent infrastructure with experienced and talented faculties, excellent pass percentage, good placement records, and society-oriented activities. NSIT provides quality education to the poor students coming from rural background with minimum fees structure. NSIT undertakes all steps to ensure that the students get the scholarship/loan from the both central and state governments as applicable. In addition to these scholarships to economically backward and meritorious students is provided. Fee concession is also provided to the needy students. It helps in empowering their academic and career goals by removing financial barrier.

NSIT has been sincerely concerned for the development of the society. Several social welfare programmes have been undertaken by the institution from time to time. NSIT now has emerged as an educational institution promoting the values, professionalism, social sensitivity, and dynamic entrepreneurship. Numerous career guidance and skill development programme have been conducted at various government schools. Computer training programmes have also been conducted for surrounding school students and rural youth by our faculties to empower them in IT field. NSIT has also conducted training sessions in engineering as an effort to make the rural youths employable.
